Purple Heart To N.Lenox Youth

--The Purple Heart Medal was given to Lance Corp. George J. Yapp, Jr., during a ceremony in the United States Naval Hospital at Great Lakes for wounds received in action on Oct. 4, 1967 in Viet Nam. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Yapp of Parker Road, New Lenox. He has a sister Terry and two brothers, Bill and Tim at home. This award for support of the forces of the Republic of Viet Nam in their struggle with the insurgent Communist Viet Cong forces, was presented to the 19-year-old Marine by Rear Admr. John W. Albright, on Nov. 11.

Lance Corp. Yapp participated in 14 operations during his 10 month stay in Viet Nam. He served with the First Marine Division as a rifleman working on foot in small groups in the northern part of South Viet Nam. Helicopters provided supplies and assistance. He was hit by fragments from explosives while on night patrol near Quan Nam. He was treated at a military hospital in Da Nang. Later he was flown to the Great Lakes Naval Hospital where he is now convalescing from leg fractures, shoulder and ear wounds.

As soon as permission is granted by the doctors, Yapp will be home with his family on a 30-day leave. Following the leave, he will besent to a permanent duty station to serve the remaining two and one-half years of his enlistment term in the Marines.

Plans Ski Trip

Ronald Stopka, athletics director at Lincoln - Way High School is planning another spring vacation ski trip for students from the L-W, Joliet and Lockport area.

The group will stay at the Arapaho Basin Lodge (Arapaho, Colo.), just a few hundred yards from the lifts. Spring vacation at Lincoln -Way begins April 12 and the group will leave that day on the Denver Zephyr, from Aurora, and return Sunday, April 21. Hinsdale, LaGrange and Wheaton students will also make the trip, it was announced.

There is to be a special meeting at 7:30 next Tuesday night (Nov. 28) in the Driver Education room at Lincoln-Way High, for all interested students and their parents. Films of last year's trip will be shown, followed by a question and answer period.

Early reservations are suggested by Stopka, as there is a limited amount of accommodations.

It was pointed out there will be faculty leadership, insurance coverage, a maximum of 15 students to one chaperone, and the cost will be reasonable.

Trinity School

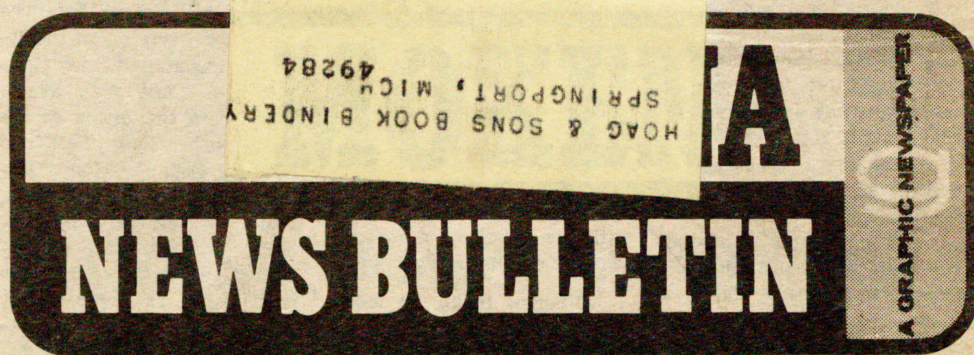

On Dec. 3, from 2 to 5 p.m., the Trinity School for Mentally Retarded Children on Gougar Rd., Joliet, will hold an open house. The public is invited.

A display of all items made at Trinity School will be on display and for sale. Many items are ideal for Christmas gifts.

MOKENA GIRL, Gail Chestnut, 12, a 7th grade pupil at Arbury Hills School, is a district winner in the annual Illinois Food Poster contest, it was announced at the 53d annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural Association in Chicago. More than 18,000 elementary school students from 60 counties entered the contest. There were six district winners. Gail represents District 1, which is made up of six counties. She is a member of two 4-H clubs, the New Lenox Hayshakers, which deal with the agricultural side, and the New Lenox Blue Birds who specialize on home economic projects. She was junior showman in the lamb division.

Asks C. C. Back Move For Mail Delivery At Mokena

A proposal that the Mokena Chamber of Commerce support a program to get home delivery of mail for the area served by the Mokena post office was suggested at its meeting in Willowcrest School Monday night.

According to Will Tuttle, head of the Chamber, a committee is being formed to delve into the matter further. Mrs. Rudolph Engelhardt, who is active in civic and community affairs, was invited by the Chamber to bring up the subject of home mail delivery at the Monday night meeting.

She explained that her health has been such that it has been difficult for her to get to the Post Office herself and her husband gets home too late to get to the Post Office before it closes for the day.

She said that she has been in receipt of similar complaints from other wives. Mrs. Engelhardt then wrote the Postmaster General, Congressman Leslie Arends and Senators Dirksen and Percy. The postmaster general referred her letter to the regional director at Chicago but Mrs. Engelhardt has not had a line from him as yet. Senator Dirksen and Congressman Arends wrote they are working together on the question and Senator Percy indicated he too would aid.

Mrs. Leslie Bignal, Third St., a teacher, has also written the congressman and senators and postal officials to ask for home delivery for the reason that she finds it quite difficult to get to the post office.

Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, postmaster, could not be reached for any comment as to procedure on how to get home delivery.

From another official source, however, it was learned that postal regulations set up certain criteria for establishing home delivery. First a post office must have had a gross business of $10,000 the preceding year and it was said that most good second class post offices do that much business easily.

There is also a population requirement, 2,500 persons in the delivery area. The streets must be marked with signs and the houses and business establishments properly numbered. Streets must be paved and on thoroughfares that would be dangerous for pedestrians because of the traffic, there should be sidewalks. Houses or business establishments must have receptacles in which mail may be left or house or door pierced with a slot thru which mail can be thrust. Residents also are required to have a path from street to front door that may be of cinder, gravel or concrete. All these conditions, it was said, cover the area where foot carriers would serve. Such areas must have more than 50 per cent of the lots improved with buildings. Mokena meets their requirements, it was said.

Mounted routes are set up in areas where less than 50 per cent of the land is occupied as residences or for business, commercial or industrial purposes. In those places curbside service is furnished. Residents or firms place a mail box in front of their premises, along the curb line, and the carrier, using a right side drive truck, makes delivery. A foot carrier may cover 300 stops while a mounted carrier can cover twice that number, it was said.

The real criteria, it was pointed out by one versed in the practical side of government, is the amount of pressure that is brought to bear at Washington.

If enough people, it was said, write their congressman and senators and the postmaster general, something's got to give.

New Lenox and Orland Park have had home mail delivery for a number of years now.

Winterize Driving Habits, Suggestion Of Motor Club

Most experience motorists already have their cars winterized. But there is another step to safe winter operation of your car, says the Chicago Motor Club-AAA--winterizing your driving habits.

Step Number One is to change your thinking. Winter driving is different. It's dangerous and takes longer to go from place to place.

When starting out, the motor club suggest this procedure. Get the feel of the road. Accelerate deliberately in low speed to see if the wheels spin, the brake to see if they skid. Reduce speed accordingly and make all driving motions gently and in plenty of time.

Secondly, increase your following distance even though someone may try to cut you off. It takes from three to 12 times as long to stop on snow and ice as it does on normal pavements.

Pumping your brakes rapidly once or twice a second will bring you to a more even stop with less chance of skidding than steady hard pressure on the brakes.

Brakes that pull or a clutch that grabs can send a car careening out of control at the slightest provocation on a slippery surface. Bad shock absorbers, too, can give way to uncontrollable motion.

Should you get into a skid, keep calm. Don't slam on the brakes. Steer in the direction in which the rear of the car is moving. Gently decelerate when you are going in the proper direction and be careful not to oversteer. If you keep your car in gear you will find your engine can be an effective brake.

Windows and windshields should be kept clear -- all of them at all times. This means keeping your defroster in good working order and your wiper blades sharp.

Before getting under way you might consider these winter suggestions from the Chicago Motor Club:

--Cars with automatic brakes have to be "set" by depressing the gas pedal all the way down once and releasing it half way before cranking the starter. Don't pump the accelerator. This simple oversight can cause spark plugs to be drenched with raw gasoline, a serious service problem.

--Frozen locks on doors or trunk lids usually can be freed by inserting a heated key. Use a match or lighter to heat the key. Also take the precaution of drying weather stripping around doors and trunk frame after a car wash or a thaw in snow allowed to pile up on a car.

--Don't overload the trunk. Be sure to carry salt, abrasive gravel or old skid chains (chains can be used effectively by throwing them under a wheel to provide traction), a shovel and maybe a few blankets. But remember, too much weight on the rear wheels will not improve traction. Instead, it could make steering difficult.

--If your car has an air conditioner, turn it on every week for at least five minutes. This permits lubrication and prevents vital parts from drying out.

State Offers Trees, Shrubs To Farmers

Applications for forest tree planting stock from the Forestry Division of the Illinois Department of Conservation, are now available from the office of the Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District, 100 Manhattan Road, Joliet -- phone: 815-723-5078. Orders will be accepted at state nurseries until April 15, 1968. Early orders will guarantee delivery before stocks are depleted, it was said.

All state stock is available for spring planting only. The minimum order is 500 plants of any one species of hardwoods, pines and shrubs. Two varieties of wildlife packets, one for Northern Illinois and the other for the Southern part of the state, each containing a total of 500 trees and wildlife shrubs, are again being sold. The packets are for landowners who want to provide cover for wildlife on pond banks, in fence corners, on hill sides and other small areas that cannot be farmed.

In accordance with the State Forest and Nurseries law (signed by the governor May 17, 1965) "trees pur-

Dance-Nov. 9

Approximately 400 persons attended the second annual Frankfort Police Department dance in the Veterans' Memorial Building. The dancers liked the music of the Gene Victor orchestra so well that it was engaged on the spot for next year's dance, which is scheduled for Nov. 9.

Speaking to the department Chief Ted Massey said the members were very grateful to everyone who helped to make the dance successful.

Leslie Meitler, of Worth, was the winner of a 25-pound turkey and recipients of a $25 savings bond were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Woodman, of Frankfort.

SUGGESTION AWARDS in the amount of $50 were received by left to right, John A. Mano, Wilmington and William G. Kokal, 173 Hawthorne Street, New Lenox from the U.S. Army Ammunition Procurement and Supply Agency. Their suggestion, submitted jointly, eliminates conflict between the list of parts and item drawings.

Will County GOP To Honor Congressmen

Will County's two Republican congressmen, Leslie C. Arends of Melvin and John N. Erlenborn of Elmhurst will be honored at a dinner Friday, Dec. 8, preceding the annual Young Republican Awards presentation dance at D'Amico's 214 in Joliet, it was announced by Thomas Feehan, chairman of the Will County Republican Central Committee.

Representative Arends, who has served 17 terms in Congress, represents the 17th Congressional District which includes all but three of Will County's 24 townships. Representative Erlenborn is serving his second term as representative of the 14th District which includes Lockport, Du Page and Joliet townships.

"When the courts drafted congressional re-apportionment maps two years ago dividing Will County between two districts, many of our Will County people were seriously concerned," Feehan stated. "But after having been represented in the congress for the past year by two congressmen rather than one, we find this division has in reality been an advantage to our county."

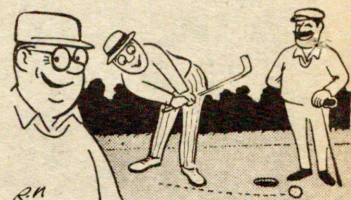

"We plan to take this opportunity to demonstrate to our congressmen just how appreciative we are for the excellent work they are doing in behalf of Will County," Feehan added.

The dinner will be a major fund raising event for Will County Republicans. Proceeds are earmarked for the operation of Republican Headquarters which is located in Joliet. Tickets will be $50 per person.

"Dec. 8 will kick off our 1968 campaign drive," Feehan disclosed. "Statistical studies indicate this county and the other suburban areas around Chicago will decide the winners in next year's statewide races for United States senator, governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general and auditor as well as determine how Illinois will go in the presidential race."

Feehan said reservations are being accepted by mail and orders should be sent to Will County Republican Headquarters, 32 West Van Buren St., Joliet.

"The best salesman is the one who knows how to miss a six foot putt by one inch."

Interior Design Corner ... THE CART BEFORE THE HORSE!

In home decorating as in home building, certain orderly procedures are necessary. A home builder does not raise the side walls before the foundation is in place.

Occasionally customers come to us with a paint chip, in search of carpeting, drapery, etc., to our dismay, we learn that the room is empty of furniture but has been recently painted. Though we have hundreds of fabrics to work with, we all too often cannot find precisely the right fabric to coordinate with the paint that has been applied.

This dilemma could have been avoided by first selecting the carpeting, followed by drapery, furniture and accessories in order. The paint could easily have been specially mixed to satisfy the over-all scheme.

Orderly procedure is just as important when decorating a room that is partially furnished. In these cases care must be taken to integrate those items already in use into the "total" room. A properly planned room must be completely harmonious, devoid of items that appear to be left out or shunted aside.

If you own a painting of which you are particularly fond and want to use in your room, it can serve well as the color-key to your scheme. Here too, it is important that the items allowing the smallest color choice be selected first. With this in mind, it is obviously better to select the carpeting first and then coordinate successive fabrics and colors to complete the room.

Don't risk throwing your money to the winds. Our decorating service is available to you at no additional charge. You pay only for the merchandise selected.

"All 400 bags of this corn soya milk were sent directly from Matadi to Kisangani (formerly Stanleyville). No city of the Congo has suf-

Paul Rowswell Dies After Long Illness

Paul M. Rowswell, 63, formerly of New Lenox, died on Thursday Nov. 16, at the Zion Benton Hospital, Zion, Ill., following a lingering illness.

Born Sept. 9, 1904 at New Lenox, he had lived at El Paso, Tex., for some twenty years, where he was the proprietor of a gun shop. He returned to New Lenox about fourteen months ago.

Survivors include his wife, Elizabeth, two brothers, Arthur and Ted Rowswell, both of New Lenox.

Removal was to the Baskerville Chapel, New Lenox, where services were conducted on Saturday, Nov. 18, at 2:00 p.m., with the Rev. Herbert George of the New Lenox Methodist Church officiating.

Interment was in Manhattan Center Cemetery, Manhattan, Ill.

"Previous to July, 1967, we had eliminated all food distribution in the city. However, following the July revolt, the city was completely sacked and actually faced possible famine conditions. The Congo Protestant Relief Agency sent 16 tons of food immediately on C-130 U.S. Air Force Airplanes. Fortunately, the C.P.R.A. warehouse in Kisangani was not

Mokena Auto Stickers At Bargain Price

Beginning Friday, Dec. 1, Mokena vehicle license stickers will go on sale at the village clerk's office, 19333 Wolf Rd.

Vehicle owners who buy their village stickers now will save $2. The fee now is $3 and will remain such thru Dec. 31. But beginning Jan. 1 the fee will be $5, up to Feb. 1. After that date, what with court costs, fines and the like, the stickers become expensive.

Winter Sports Start At Sandburg Saturday

Winter sports get underway this weekend for the Carl Sandburg Eagles.

On Nov. 24, Hinsdale South visits the Eagles' court with basketball games between sophomore squads at 6:30 and the varsities playing at 8 p.m.

Also on Nov. 24, Sandburg wrestlers meet Tinley Park there in a match beginning at 7:30. The first home meet for the Eagle wrestlers is Dec. 1 when Downers Grove visits. On Saturday, Dec. 2, the Eagles wrestle at Joliet Central at 1:30 p.m.

Swimming season opens Nov. 25 when the Eagles swim at Glenbrook North at 2:30 p.m. The first home meet is with Rockford Guilford, here, at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 2. On Thursday, Dec. 7, the swimmers are at Tinley Park with the match beginning at 4 p.m.

Coach Bill Adams' varsity basketball team hopes to spring back from its 2-18 record of a year ago. Underclassmen who learned the ropes the hard way are now experienced veterans and hopes are high in the Eagle camp. Seniors Chuck Jaeger, Brian Taber, and Kurt Pnasek, and junior John McBride, an all-conference guard are back to form the nucleus of the revitalized Eagles. Jim Gorney, Mike Snodgrass, and junior George Sloan, a 6-7 transfer student from California are likely to see action. Others vying for position are Ron Richards, Tom Devine, Steve Kleinfeldt, Mike Ferguson, and Rich Ganch.

Varsity wrestlers, coached by John Anderson, have six lettermen back from last season's 12-4-1 team plus an unbeaten 17-0 soph squad moving up and seeking varsity spots. The lettermen are Duane Palmer, Doc McGhee, Larry Bernard, Leroy Pauls, Bill Palmer, and Mark Leatzow. Bernard is a senior and is a two year letterman.

Leading swimmers on Coach Alan Gillberg's squad are Jan Groenewold, Bob

DeNovo, John Dahlgren, John Heintz, Casey Kewer, Jim Nudd, Tom Immormino, Keith Pozulp, Pat Lohmann, Tom Koslik, Tinker Lysen, Paul Stelter, and Mark Kap-tur.

Dance Proceeds To Aid Concert Tour

Carl Sandburg High School Music Parent's Association is sponsoring its fifth annual dance on Friday evening, Dec. 1 at the Palos Country Club, 131st and Southwest Highway.

Music for dancing, beginning at 9 o'clock, will be furnished by the Carl Sandburg Dance Band under the direction of Milton L. Potter, music director.

A select singing group, The Chorale, directed by Wayne Doverspike, will entertain with an arrangement of numbers from the '40's during the intermission.

This dance is for the benefit of students in the music department of Sandburg who are planning a Colorado concert tour in February. Tickets are available from any music student of the school of at the door. Friends as well as the public cordially invited. Donation $2.50 per person.

Sets Dates For Town Voters To Register

Voters of the unincorporated areas of Orland Township not yet registered may do so between Saturday, Nov. 25 and Jan. 16, it was announced by Town Clerk Russell M. Whitney.

Registrations will be taken at the township office, 9917 W. 143d St., Orland Park. To be eligible for registration a person must be 21 years of age or over, a citizen, and a resident of Illinois for one year, of the county for 90 days, and their election precinct 30 days.

Dates for registration:

Nov. 25, between 3 and 5 p.m.; Tuesday, Dec. 5, 7 to 9 p.m.; Saturday, Dec. 16, 3 to 5 p.m.; Tuesday, Dec. 19, 7 to 9 p.m.; Tuesday, Jan. 2, 7 to 9 p.m.; Saturday, Jan. 13, 3 to 5 p.m. and Tuesday, Jan. 16, 7 to 9 p.m.

Anyone unable to register on any of the above dates may call Mr. Whitney after 6 p.m. for an appointment. His number is 349-6915. The last date to register in the office of the town clerk is Jan. 16.

Invite Public To N.L. Police Dance

The ballroom in the Joliet Elks Building, 155 N. Scott St. (between Cass and Clinton Sts.) will be the scene of the annual New Lenox Police Association dance this Saturday night, Nov. 25.

Music will be provided by the Gene Victor orchestra. Dancing is scheduled to begin at 9 o'clock.

The Police Association Dance is held annually for the benefit of members of the New Lenox department and their families. The Village of New Lenox, it was pointed out, does not have the funds to provide many of the fringe benefits for the employees that have been enjoyed for many years by those employed in industry.

Last year's dance was also held in the Elks ballroom and since those attending enjoyed the accommodations the committee in charge decided to have the affair there again this year.

Tickets are $1 per person and those who have not purchased any yet may do so at the door.

OXO Ranch Heifer Class Champion At International Show

The John L. Matasovic family, which owns and operates the OXO Hereford ranch at Mokena, showed the champion of the summer yearling Hereford heifer class at the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago Monday.

The winning heifer was OXO Cadette 17, a Prairie Rose calf by OXO Monarch 2d, herd sire, whose bloodline goes back to Portage Mixer 1, founder of the herd at OXO ranch.

The Matasovic family are united in their interest in Hereford cattle and show at most of the important expositions around the country.

The Matasovics won a second in the senior yearly heifer class and also had a couple of entries in the dressed beef competition. Producers find this competition quite useful in determining programs to produce more and better meat for the market.

In winning the summer yearling class the Matasovics beat out the entry of Bobby Hull, Chicago hockey star. Hull purchased a heifer recently that was looked upon as a probable winner. Miss Dom 6210 is the heifer's name and while Hull appeared that he would feel more at home if the show stick in his hands were a hockey stick, he did nothing that would have taken points away from his entry, as far as news stories have it.

Mr. Matasovic also owns and operates a welding equipment supply company at New Lenox.

Set New Goals

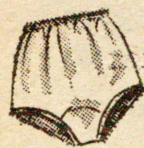

At the last meeting of the Frankfort Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday, Oct. 25, it was decided to use new ideas and set new goals for the betterment of the community without changing the 1890 theme which the town is famous for.

A "Sparkling Committee" was suggested with Marvin Brownell as chairman. He is in the process of selecting the committee at this time. The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 29.

Industrial Arts Reflect Man's Development

Man's ability to use tools, materials and ideas, is what brought him out of the caves, and allowed him to build the highly industrial and technological society that we have today.

Tools, materials and ideas, are the ingredients of Industrial Arts Education. Likewise, they are the components of the technological society in which we live. One great educator stated it this way: "Man is a tool-using animal. Wherever you find people, you find tools. Without tools man can do little; with them the possibilities are unlimited."

Only 150 years ago the average American citizen made or prepared most of the things he used. The American family was almost a complete producer as well as consumer of the common necessities.

The intervening years have witnessed many changes. As in every era of history, tools and materials have played an important part. From the beginning, this country was built by people who knew how to work with tools, materials and ideas. Paul Revere was a famous silversmith, Washington spent his early life as a surveyor and Jefferson was a versatile inventor and user of many kinds of tools. Franklin not only experimented with electricity and more or less gets acquainted with the automobile and its operation.

In the drafting section the student covers lettering, line work, multiview drawing, scaling and sectioning.

In the electricity section the student covers the use of Ohm's Law, parallel and series circuits, splices and basic wiring.

In the metals section the student covers the use of the basic hand tools and how they apply to the metals area. They cover ornamental iron work and sheet metal.

In the woods are the student covers the use of the basic hand tools and how they apply to the woods area. He covers the cutting, fitting and assembling of wood projects.

The program interconnects some areas. The drafting applies to all of the areas because the students use reading of drawings and measuring of items in all areas. The woods and metals shops make projects which are dependent on one another.

After having completed Shop I, the student may enter in any two of the areas for one semester. This is called Shop II. In Shop II the student advances in the use of equipment and knowledge.

Auto II covers engine tune-up. This is done with the latest of test equipment.

Drafting II covers mechanical drafting in greater detail.

Electronics II covers the basic electronics up to and including radio construction, testing, and servicing.

Metals II starts into gas and arc welding, sheet metal and the use of the basic machine tools. Some of these tools are the lathe, shaper, drill press and grinder.

Woods II includes the use of power equipment as well as a review of hand tools. In woods one also develops skills in the use of the lathe and power saws and other equipment.

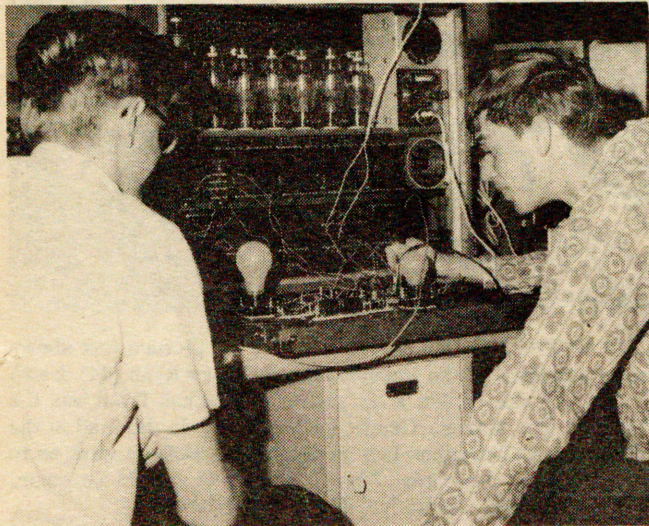

After a student has completed a Shop II course he may take a Shop III course in that area. The Shop III program continues into the specifics in more detail.

Auto III covers engine overhauling, while Drafting III continues in more detail into mechanical drawing and then architectural drawing. Pre-engineering drawing is offered at this level for students wanting to go to college in the field of engineering. Electronics III introduces the student to Industrial Electronics, and how electronics are used to control the machines and production lines of modern industry. Woods III and Metal III are concerned with the in-depth development of skills in use of the tools and materials of their respective area.

Rounding out the program is a course in Home Mechanics for girls, so that they will also have the opportunity to develop skills in the use of certain tools needed around the home.

These are a few of industrial arts activities, ranging from sawing a board to space-age electronics. For those people who intend to go into scientific-technological work, it has special relevance. It also has special relevance to the person who plans on working in the trades. The manipulation of objects, the use of tools, and the construction of simple apparatus all are required for entry into the world of experimentation. Even the pure mathematician is greatly aided by shop experience; the forms, contours, and interrelations of three dimensional objects provide a stimulus and satisfaction not to be achieved altogether within the limits of two dimensional diagrams. The lack of shop training is at present a most serious deterrent to entry into all types of technological work and to college and post-graduate training in science, medicine and engineering besides the trade areas. The direct contact with materials, the manipulation of simple tools, the capacity to create by hand from a concept in the mind are all indispensable aspects of the general education for everyone.

ran a print shop, but was strong in his belief that all growing youngsters should have similar experiences.

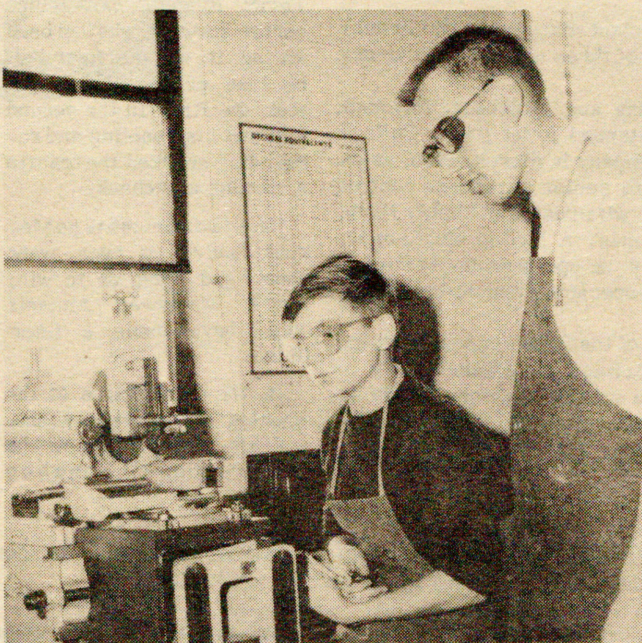

"Yankee ingenuity" is more than an expression. It is a positive way of life—a way that has got us where we are today. Our's is an industrial society and Yankee ingenuity helped to make it that way. Our schools and our education should reflect this concept. Every growing youngster needs first hand experiences with the heritages that have brought our kind of life into being. When Americans lose the itch to build, the America we know will vanish.

The Industrial Arts shop provides the school environment in which young people learn to work together. They begin to understand something of industrial products and processes; they study the workings of an industrial society. They learn to make better use of the things they buy, and they develop their creative abilities in solving problems with tools and materials. They plan, experiment, and construct, and in the process they are called upon to think, to organize and to choose between alternates.

What is Industrial Arts in the modern school like. The following is a brief description of the Industrial Arts courses offered at Lincoln-Way. All students start with the Shop I Program. In this course, they receive seven weeks in each of the five areas offered at Lincoln-Way. These five areas are Auto, Drafting, Electricity, Metals, and Woods.

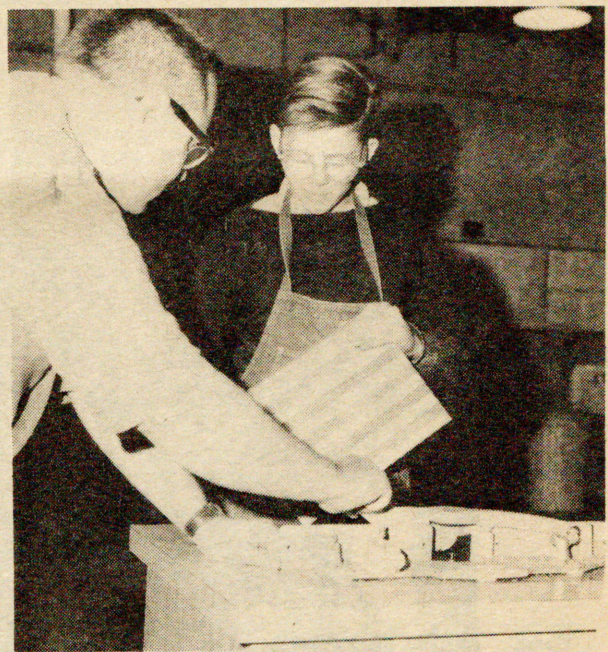

In the auto section the student covers the basics of an automobile. The different parts of the engine, transmission and suspension. He

Futures Trading Protect Farmers

Illinois grain and livestock farmers were encouraged to put the futures market to work for greater stability in their farming operations during a marketing conference Nov. 14, at the 53rd annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural Association being held in Chicago's Sherman House.

Everette B. Harris, president of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, said commodity exchanges offer farmers a valuable marketing aid thru futures trading.

He said, "The Chicago Mercantile Exchange doesn't make a market, it provides the market place where the forces of supply and demand come together to provide an opportunity to shift financial risks and to provide a barometer to forecast prices."

Harris cited several advantages to farmers thru futures trading. Advantages include: Price insurance thru hedging, which permits the farmer to transfer the risk of loss to the market speculator; information on daily commodity transactions; improved credit and financial assistance thru assurance for the banker that a farmer's products have been hedged; an outlook on prices in the months ahead; and the futures markets are an incentive for standardization and quality control.

Harris said less than three per cent of current livestock futures contracts are delivered.

Gray Daly, vice-president and general manager, Interstate Producers Livestock Association, said the futures market will become a real part of farmers' livestock marketing tools if specifications for the livestock sold under contract can be made more exact.

By tightening the specifications of livestock sold, Daly said buyers of livestock carcasses will know more exactly what they are getting, be better able to closer plan their operations, and as a result will use the futures contracts to buy meat. The result will be much greater stability in livestock prices permitting farmers to make management decisions with considerably more knowledge and assurance of profits.

Robert Martin, chairman of the board of directors of the Chicago Board of Trade, said one key function of the Board is standardization of commodities in order to facilitate trading. The grain market operates with a system of official inspection and assignment of grades. He said, "Personal examination of each lot is not necessary when the parties to a transaction know that a designated grade is involved and that the quality standard will be rigidly applied by a fair-minded third party."

Martin said by hedging, a farmer can protect his crop and cattle prices exactly when he wants to. He can also normally earn a payment for holding his crops in storage, and can forward-price his livestock feed requirements in advance of buying.

Francis White, FS Services, Inc., grain specialist, said an advantage for grain farmers using the futures market is contained in selling a growing crop or deciding on planting intentions.

White called the Chicago Board of Trade a "tremendous price finder" for grain trading. He called the futures contracts, "a tool that you may use in your business. You can ill afford to be without it."

STEVE CHAMBERLAIN

CONRAD MARK

NEW FOREMEN at Mobil Chemical, Marvin C. Brownell plant manager at the Frankfort Plant of Mobil Chemical Company announced the promotion of three men to supervisory positions.

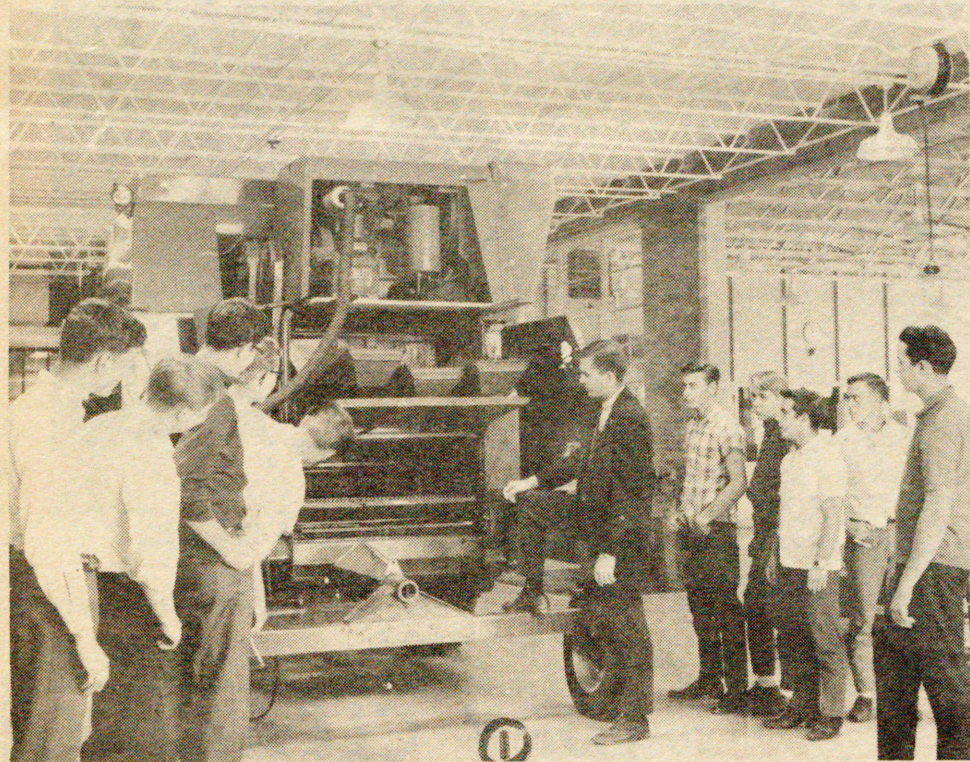

Steve Chamberlain has been promoted to shipping-receiving and warehouse foreman. Chamberlain is a native of Champlain, New York, and has attended Joliet Junior College and Loras College at Dubuque, Iowa. He started with the Company in March, 1966, as an operator-trainee and advanced to Warehouseman and then to senior warehouse control clerk before receiving the recent promotion. Steve and his wife reside in Tinley Park.

Curt LaFontaine has been promoted to production foreman. A 1966 graduate of St. Procopius College, LaFontaine started with the company as an operator-in-training in July, 1966. He advanced to assistant operator, and then to operator prior to his recent promotion. He resides at Lockport.

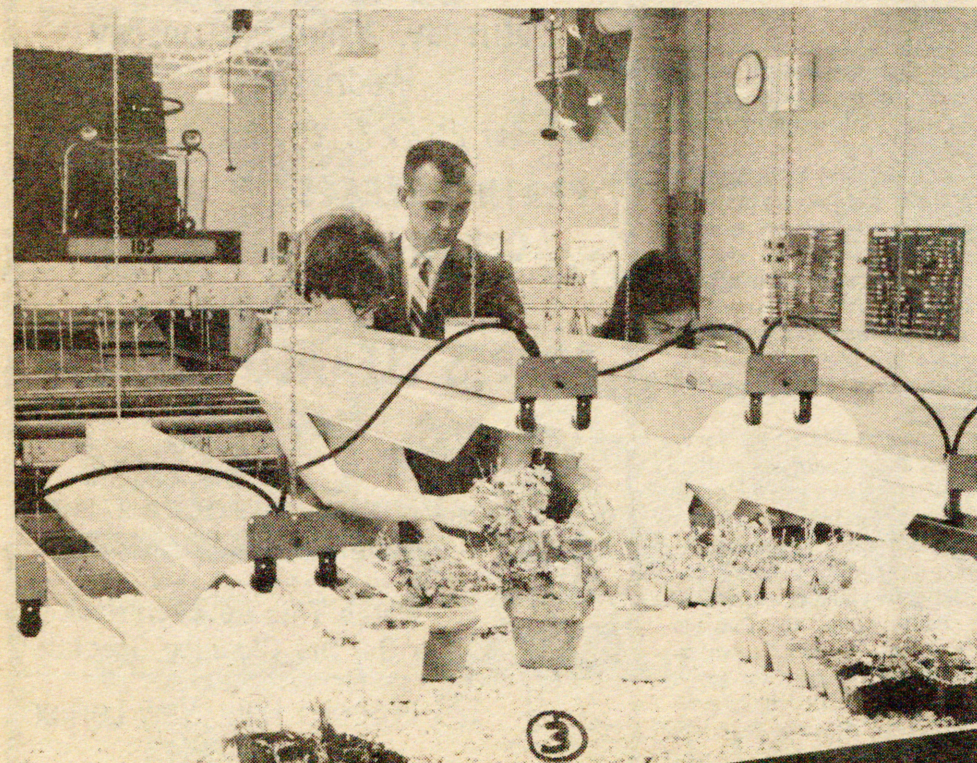

Conrad Mark is named maintenance foreman. He was one of the first employees at the Frankfort plant, having started in October, 1965, as an electrician. He advanced first to senior maintenance mechanic and then to lead maintenance mechanic before receiving the recent promotion. Mark and his wife Marian live in Manhattan.

Mokena Quint Rallies To Nose Out Channahon, 55 To 51

The Mokena Grade School heavyweight basketball team rallied in the second half to nose out the Channahon Indians, 55 to 51, last Friday night. It was a Des Plaines Valley Conference game and played at Willowcrest School in Mokena. It was the fourth straight win for Mokena.

At half-time, however, the prospect was anything but pleasing for the Mokena outfit. Channahon was sitting on top of a 33 to 15 score and only the most optimistic expected a Mokena victory -- but they weren't mentioning it out loud and they kept their fingers crossed.

Well, the second half perhaps explains why optimists keep on being optimistic. Terry Ryan, 6-foot-2-inch center-forward who had been sitting it out the first half because of an ankle injury took the floor in the second half and his shooting and rebounding sparked the team to a surging comeback.

With two minutes to go Mokena hauled up even, went ahead and hung on to win. Frank Merriwell himself could have made a finer finish.

In the first game of the evening the Mokena Lightweights fell victims to the sharpshooting Channahon Ponies, 28 to 17.

On Tuesday night of this week Mokena was host to Troy Elementary in another league contest but because of mechanical problems it is not possible to carry the results in this week's paper.

CONVERTS REBOUND -- Actually the picture just shows the beginning of the conversion as Terry Ryan (44) draws a bead on the basket after getting a rebound. Ryan was the lad that put Mokena Grade School quintet in the lead in the battle with Channahon last Friday night. Mokena went on to win the varsity contest 55-51. No. 42 is Ronald Fortman. The Channahon player, No. 41, is Bill Byers.

Barbara Schmaedeke Weds David Sheldon

MRS. DAVID SHELTON

On Oct. 14 in the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd, Palos Park, Miss Barbara Lou Schmaedeke became the bride of David B. Sheldon of Denver, Colo.

The Rev. Victor Brandt and Rev. Walter Ledogar of Christ Lutheran Church of Orland Park officiated at the 6:30 p.m. candlelight ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville J. Schmaedeke, Orland Park and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Sheldon of Percival, Iowa.

White stock with red roses and candles decorated the church and white stock and white snapdragons decorated the altar.

Mrs. Ronald Gustafson served as organist, while Mr. Royal Glahn sang "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride approached the altar dressed in a floor length candlelight satin gown, featuring lace trim at the neck and embroidered with pearls and elbow length lace sleeves.

Her headpiece consisted of lace beaded with pearls, a Mantilla veil, and a long forming train.

She carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Gail Gimlin. She wore an ivory satin floor length bell shaped gown trimmed in velvet brocade of deep shade of green, red and apricot. An ivy wreath formed the headpiece with red roses intertwined. She carried an arrangement of large red roses and ivy.

Mrs. Carroll Ann Christoffenson, matron of honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. Carol Schmaedeke, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Jeanne Kool, Miss Barbara Grau, and Mary Barton, cousin of the bride, were dressed identical with the maid of honor.

Judy Nash, cousin of the bride was in charge of the guest register.

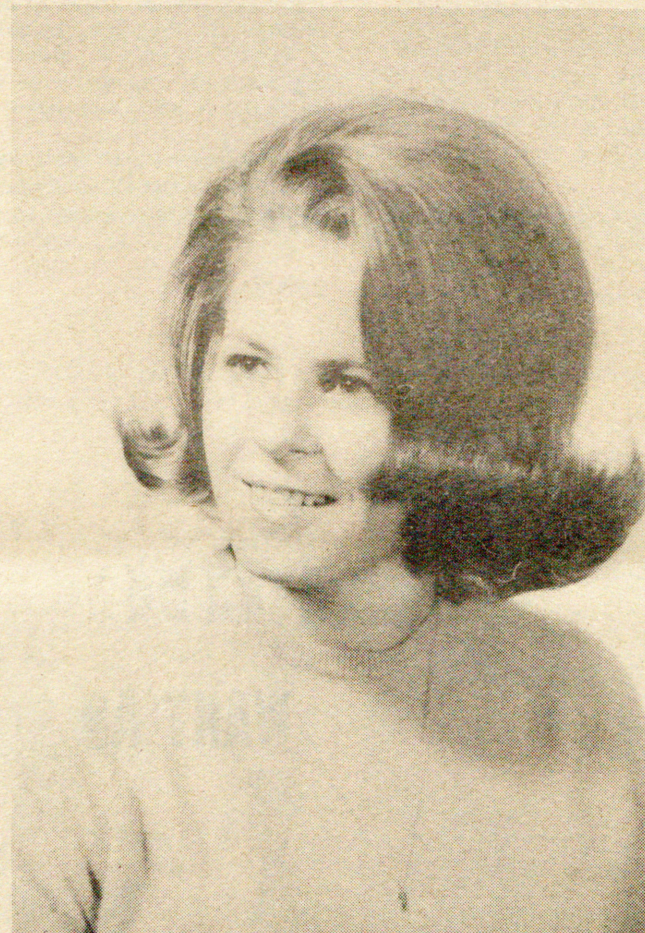

Performing the duties of best man was William Praken, while Stuart Souders, Tom Morton, Paul Robertson, Michael Knapp, and Richard Schmaedeke, brother of the bride served as ushers.

A reception followed at the Midlothian Country Club.

After a wedding trip to San Juan and Aruba in the Dutch West Indies, the couple are at home at 9330 W. 44th St., Denver, Colo.

BETTY LOU KAMPE -- Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Kampe of rural Frankfort, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Betty Lou, to James A. Hobbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hobbs of rural Manhattan. The wedding will be performed at 4:30 p.m., Dec. 2, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Vollmer Rd., Tinley Park. All friends and relatives are invited to attend. The reception will be held at the Will County Atrium, Peotone. Miss Kampe is a graduate of Peotone Community High School and Joliet Junior College, and is presently employed at the Rock Island Railroad, Chicago. Her fiancé is a graduate of Lincoln-Way High School and is engaged in farming.

ROSEMARIE THORLAKSON -- Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thorlakson, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., announce the engagement of their daughter, Rosemarie, to Bill D. Wennlund, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wennlund, 7 Plaza Dr., New Lenox.

Both will graduate from Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., in January.

A March wedding is planned.

Groundbreaking.... "Everybody-In-Act"

An unprecedented event will be featured at Lutheran South Hospital's groundbreaking ceremony, Sunday, Dec. 3, at 2 p.m. at the Hospital site, 207th and Cicero Avenue, Matteson.

"The board of trustees decided to revise the usual ceremony that would have followed the traditional pattern of groundbreaking," said hospital vice president, Daniel C. Springer. "Since all who have given up to this point in the fundraising campaign should be given this honor, the trustees now plan to have everyone that attends take part in the ceremony," added Springer.

All donors have been invited to attend, and have been instructed to bring their own spades so that they can participate in the groundbreaking ceremony.

Those that are taking part will be aligned to form a giant outline of the Hospital at its location on the site. On cue, everyone will turn the symbolic "shovelful of dirt" at the same time.

The board also extends an invitation to all interested persons to join in the ceremony. Since large segments of the campaigns are still in progress everyone will have an opportunity to make a pledge or donate to this hospital which will serve them and their community.

Work, to prepare the site for an early start of construction, will begin as soon as possible after the ceremony.

Win Scholarships At Providence

Twelve seniors from Providence High School, New Lenox, have been named semi-finalists in a statewide scholarship competition, Brother K. Daniel, Providence principal, has announced.

The sponsor of the scholarships is the Illinois State Scholarship Commission, an agency of the State of Illinois.

The determining factors in selecting the semi-finalists were three: approval of each student by the Providence administration; individual rank in class; and, the result of the ACT (American College Testing Program), a college entrance examination widely used to determine mastery of material in English, mathematics, social studies, and natural science.

All semi-finalists will receive a certificate of merit. To receive a monetary scholarship award, each student must enter a recognized college in Illinois, and must show that there is some economic need for the scholarship funds. Amount of the scholarship is determined by need.

This year's semi-finalists are:

Linda Archambeau, 426 S. Prairie Rd., New Lenox; Michael Bingham, 17717 66th Court, Tinley Park; Sharon Carlos, 260 S. Eastern Ave., Manhattan; Aurora Kujawa, Lemont Rd., Lemont; Theresa Long, Wilmington; James McNamara, 17726 Oak Park Av., Tinley Park; Mary Jo Murdie, Wilmington; Terrence Nelson, Joliet; Francis Rink, Braidwood; Kenneth Wilke, 111 Archer Av. Lemont; Teresa Wingate, 218 Prairie Rd., New Lenox and Paul Zimmermann, 6643 Hubbard Lane, Tinley Park.

Two Churches Hold Bazaars On Nov. 28 And Dec. 4

Telephone: 479-9321
The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Mokena Methodist church will hold its annual Christmas bazaar and luncheon on Dec. 4, 5, in Fellowship Hall.

On Monday, Dec. 4, Christmas items, fancy work, household gifts will be offered for sale from 7 to 9 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

On Tuesday, Dec. 5, doors will open at 10 a.m. with a luncheon starting at 11 a.m. Tickets will be available at the door at $1.25 for adults and 35 cents for preschool children. Mrs. Ralph Swanberg, chairman of the Naomi Circle, will be in charge of the luncheon.

Members of the Susannah Circle will serve as salesladies of all booths including Christmas decorations, fancy work, aprons, rugs, jewelry, candies, bakery goods and nearly new items.

Mrs. Florence Neithammer is chairman of this circle. Mrs. Wesley Sievert serves as president of the WSCS.

The annual St. John's bazaar and luncheon will be held in the church parlors on Nov. 28 starting at 11:30 p.m. Many Christmas items, bakery, etc., will be on display and sold. The smorgasbord luncheon will be $1.35 per adults, and 50¢ for children.

The regular monthly meeting of the Mokena fire dept. auxiliary was held this past Tuesday. Eighteen members were present. A Christmas party will be held by the Aux. on Tuesday evening, Dec. 5 at Jardines in Tinley Park. Cocktails will be at 7 and dinner at 7:15. All Aux. members are invited to attend. A $2 gift exchange will be included.

Once again, the Auxiliary has donated $500 to the fire dept. to be used as needed. A list of purchases will be published later.

Marine Pvt. John H. Coffey, son of Mrs. Ruth Coffey, 18806 S. 113th Ave. was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, Calif.

On Nov. 16, the Mokena Keenettes met at the Mokena VFW Hall. Mrs. Schifler of Arby Hills spoke on health and diets. Another guest, Miss Mary Riley gave a demonstration on making lemon sponge pudding. She is a nine year member of the New Lenox Blue Birds. Others guests were Mrs. Riley and Mrs. Alice Chestnut. The next meeting will be on Jan. 18 at the VFW hall.

Mrs. Esther W. Oesterreich, 19739 Mokena St., was one of 205 students at Valparaiso University accorded recognition for academic achievement at the annual fall honors convocation held Wednesday morning, November 15 in the memorial chapel.

Thomas R. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Williams, Anna St., was promoted to Army Spec. 5 on Nov. 1 at Ft. Carson, Colo. where he is serving with the 557 Transportation Co. heavy truck division.

The November meeting of the Mokena Evening Bells was held in the home of Mrs. Lorraine Moses and three new members were welcomed. They are Mesdames Ken Clough, Gena Kuehn, and Mrs. Donna Schiek. Various table settings for the holidays were displayed by Mrs. Moses, and Mrs. Ruth Neuls showed her table center pieces. Anyone interested in joining please contact Mrs. Rita Fagan at 479-5595.

The fourth annual awards banquet held by the Burro's football team was held at the Sabre Room in Hickory Hills on Sunday with about 170 people attending. Top awards were given in the 80 lb. group: Most Valuable Player, Billy Patterson; Spark Plug, Marvin Haines; Star Lineman, Darwin Erickson; Most Important Player, co-winners Larry Sandy and Doug Slusarski.

In the Lightweight awards: Spark Plug, Duane Niemann; Most valuable Player, Toby Krueger; Star Lineman, co-winners, Chris Stroh and Rick Fronek; Most Improved Player, Bob Dickens. In the Heavyweight awards: Most Valuable Player, Pat Nelson; Spark Plug, co-winners Ron Schlack and Ken Foitman and Mark Krueger; Star Lineman, Cliff Toosley; Most Improved Player, Gerry Thomas.

The overall award for the boy with the best attitude, ability, achievement, ambition, and academic record was Tommy Wolcott of Lincoln Estates.

St. Mary's mixed bowling league scores were as follows: Ryder & Son, won 27, lost 17; Friant Mason Contractor, won 25, lost 19; Mokena Pharmacy won 22, lost 22; Bernardin's Florist, won 20, lost 24; Cal-Park Const., won 19, lost 25; Bilotti Shoe Store, won 19, lost 25. The turkey night winners were Tom Anderson, 120 pins over average; Theresa Lawson 66 pins, and Bill Weber, 62 pins.

The Mokena Methodist will use as the theme for their annual Carol Service "Carols From Around the World". As a part of the service, there will be a procession for children dressed in national costumes from other countries. The Church is interested in borrowing these costumes from anyone who might have them. They will be kept in good condition and will be returned promptly after the Carol Service which is to be held Dec. 17. Anyone having a costume or even a head-dress from another country, that they would be willing to lend to the Church for this Service, please call Mrs. Holleman, 479-5944.

Easy, Mister, With That Snow Shovel!

The first snowfall of the season can be a lovely sight. It also poses a danger to some of those who rush at it with a shovel, the Illinois Heart Association warns. Each fall as the first snow clouds march across the colder climates, they are followed by reports of men succumbing to heart attacks from overexertion due to snow shoveling, the Illinois Heart Association notes.

The warning about overexertion is aimed at all men of middle age and beyond, the Association adds. But it particularly applies to those who have a history of heart disease. They shouldn't touch a shovel until they have obtained their doctor's approval. But even those who have shown no symptoms of heart disease should proceed with caution in shoveling snow. They should take frequent rest periods, and quit when they become tired.

Clearing the walks and driveway can be strenuous exercise. Men not accustomed to regular physical activity quickly can overdo it and place an undue strain on the heart. Snow looks light, but it isn't. The wetter it is, the heavier it is to lift. And the size of the shovel may compound the effort.

Added to the unaccustomed work problem is that of dress. Warm but light gear should be the answer. Some men adopt flimsy dress because they feel their bodies will heat up from work. They may become chilled, however, and invite trouble as their tiring bodies struggle to complete the snow-clearing job. Others overdress and add unnecessarily to the weight their bodies are moving around.

Snow shoveling can be beneficial to men in reasonably good health. The fresh air and exercise, properly paced are good for them. But the trick is to know just how your health score stands. If a man is overweight, and out-of-shape from lack of exercise, his best bet now is to get his doctor's word before the winter sets in for good. Then he can develop his ability to handle the winter chores.

20 years from now the electric heating in your home will still be one of the brightest ideas you ever had.

Only an electric heating system will be just as modern in twenty years as today. It will probably outlast your mortgage. (No other heating system can make that statement.)

Electric heat has other things going for it, too. Like flexibility, cleanliness, economy of installation, silence, trouble-free operation, odorlessness, and five different types of systems to choose from.

All of which adds up to keeping your home bright and modern for many years to come. And electricity is making it possible. Check into electric heat... the modern heat.

Arbury Hills

District 161 Boasts 445 Pupils; Expect Increase

MRS. EDWARD HOVI
Telephone: 479-5740

The school this year is operating with 445 pupils, an increase of twenty-eight over the number who started in September.

With the I-80 highway soon to be opened, the residents of School District 161 should become aware of the very real possibility of a sudden increase of population in our area.

At the present time there is one classroom not being used. This will be used beginning next year with the need for two rooms throughout all grades.

An increase in pupils would necessitate an increase in the size of storage space and a need for additional wash room facilities. A large increase in the number of pupils should also start people thinking about the possible need for a new site for a second school, since the present site is almost to capacity.

A balanced budget is essential for a school even if it necessitates borrowing from Peter to pay Paul. The district realizes some $50,000 from local real estate taxes, State Aid adds some $110,000, Book rental fees bring in an additional $3,600, the Parent-Teacher Group donates some $450, and the bus fees bring in some $2,600 with bus costs being some $6,000. The yearly deficit of some $30,000 is borrowed from the bank to complete the years expenses.

In spite of the addition of one new teacher and the additional books and supplies entailed in the increased enrollment, the school has been able to hold the deficit at around the $30,000 level by the judicious use of materials and the low level of illness by the teachers, thereby cutting down on the number of substitute teacher's salaries needed.

Remember that the State aid program is figured on pupil attendance not on pupil registration. The attendance is figured twice daily, and if Susie or Johnny is faking the miseries, because of forgotten homework, it costs the school district, and you the taxpayer one day's state aid allotment.

The school is strengthening its program with one half of its staff, Mrs. Blackman, Mrs. Batko, Mrs. Foutz and Miss Gorka attending a reading course at the College of St. Francis.

Mr. Brown, Mr. Heller, Mr. Hinze and Mr. Gavin are attending a workshop taught by Sister Lorraine of the College of St. Francis. The workshop is being held at the Lincoln-Way High School.

The mothers of the Brownie Troop Number 334 here in Arbury Hills held a drive to collect deposit bottles in an effort to feed a starving treasury.

The slightly cold and very tired ladies, who did all the work last Saturday were delighted to express their appreciation to all the people of our community in making it possible to add over seventy dollars to the treasury. They are also grateful to the local merchants who were so gracious in accepting all the bottles from the ladies.

The first book fair held here in Arbury Hills was a resounding success with the original two days of selling being increased to four to accommodate the crowds. The exact proceeds from the sale is not as yet known.

The meetings of the School Board of Directors of District 161 are held twice each month on the first and the third Wednesday of the month. The meetings begin at 8 p.m. at the school and they are open to the public.

With Thanksgiving here

upon us today we stop for reflection on the multitude of reasons for which we are grateful to our God.

We stop to reflect, then continue with our living of today and the tomorrows. The children begin to think of Santa and Mom and Dad begin to think of bucking

Cook County Seal Sale Is Beginning

One of the first harbingers of the coming holiday season is in the mail. It is the 1967 Christmas Seal.

Some 16-1/2 tons of Christmas Seal mail is now finding its way to mailboxes of more than a million families in Chicago and Cook County suburbs, Warren W. Lebeck, general chairman of this year's Seal campaign, stated today.

This year's is the first ten-unit Seal in the 61 years it has been a symbol of Christmas Seal campaigns nationwide and the annual drive conducted locally by The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County, Lebeck explained.

"The ten units make up a gay Victorian train," he said, "complete with candy canes, reindeer, flatcars of presents and Santa Claus."

"Christmas Seals are a longtime holiday tradition, but they are also a longtime ally in the battle for health," said Lebeck, as he urged Chicagoland residents to respond to the Christmas Seal appeal.

"Christmas Seals signify the continued battle against tuberculosis," Lebeck said.

Services provided by The Tuberculosis Institute thru Christmas Seal funds include case finding, medical and public education and research in both TB and other respiratory ills.

Discuss Farm Bargaining At IAA Reporter Gives His Thanks To Everyone

Farmers can and should have a positive influence on the price and marketing conditions of their products if they are willing to discipline themselves and support an organization to bargain for them.

That was the joint opinion of three agricultural marketing specialists who discussed farm bargaining and contracts at the opening session of the Illinois Agricultural Association annual meeting in Chicago last week. The 53rd annual meeting of the IAA, state-wide Farm Bureau, at the Sherman House closed last Thursday.

Melvin K. Hayenga, manager of Quality Vegetable Growers Association, said producers can bargain with large processors effectively if they work together and provide adequate financial support for a marketing-bargaining association. QVGA is a fruit and vegetable growers bargaining-marketing association.

Hayenga cited examples of how bargaining has paid off for tomato growers. He said where QVGA has had a contract for five years, a load of tomatoes brought $396.15; a similar load sold to a company with a contract for two years brought $357.97; and a company where no association influence was exerted paid farmers just $313.58 for a load of similar tomatoes.

Hayenga charged the Farm Bureau leaders attending the convention to advance contract marketing as quickly as possible and said, "If we don't do it, someone else will. We can't afford to let another organization or agency which might not have the best interest of the producer in mind jump in and take over. Trying to hold a product off the market after it is produced will not solve the problem -- we must solve this before production starts."

Gray Daly, general manager, Interstate Producers Livestock Association, said there are serious problems in advance delivery contracts for livestock, but the problems can be overcome.

Daly reported that IPLA has been contracting with farmers for producing feeder pigs for eight years. Under this program, farmers raise pigs from birth to a size when they can be placed on dry feed for finishing to market size. Since starting the feeder pig program, IPLA has expanded contract sales of livestock until now nearly 20 per cent of all livestock handled by the large cooperative is under contract. He expects that within five years nearly half of all livestock produced in the nation will be sold under contract.

Emerson Babb, professor of agricultural economics at Purdue University, said farmers don't feel present government programs will solve their problems but agree that with the current decline in central markets, they can affect the terms of trade.

He said there is very little research on which farm organizations can base their decisions regarding bargaining because of limited activity in this field. Because of this lack of knowledge, advances will be slow in increasing farmer bargaining power. Organizations will have to increase their control of supply if they are to increase bargaining power.

Dale E. Butz, IAA secretary of marketing, reported on developments regarding a possible consolidation of Illinois Farm Bureau Farm Management and Agricultural Business Service Company, a two-year-old affiliate of IAA. Butz said meetings between the leadership of the two organizations have been held and additional meetings are planned in an effort to eliminate duplication of effort, possible friction within Farm Bureau, and competition for members by the two groups.

"We remain convinced that farm records, income tax assistance, farm management, farm appraisal, and related services offer tremendous potential for Farm Bureau as we ask ourselves what needed services we can perform for our members. The ABSCO operation or a similar service will be continued regardless of the outcome of the proposed consolidation with Farm Bureau Farm Management. Plans for the current year call for the income tax accounting service to be offered to all counties of the state," Butz said.

Now that the holiday season is upon us I would like to take a moment of your time to thank each and every one of you for your co-operation during this past year in helping make our community a better place in which to live. We have had many good times together and conceivably a lot of good has been done within the community itself, all of which we can be thankful for. We also have had our moments of sorrow and even at times attitudes of defeatism which we weathered with the able assistance of the good Lord and a stronghearted and stubborn unity minded community. Much has also been started in helping our children with the baseball and football etc. however this did not include all of our children therefore next year we shall try even harder to include all children. All in all I think when we sit down to our big Thanksgiving Dinner we can be thankful that we live in the community called Tinley Gardens and after we have finished our turkey and dressing and pumpkin pie we can sit back and relax for a few days. We all wish all people a Happy Thanksgiving.

We offer our sympathy to Mrs. Bernice Woods of Lenore Lane on the recent death of her sister in Arkansas. She was preceded in death by her husband just seven months ago. Two married children survive.

We also offer our sympathy to Mrs. Sharron Horton on the recent death of a Grandparent in Mt. Vernon, Ill.

The Mokena Burros Football Team had its banquet last night at the Sabre Room on 95th St. and apparently all had a good time. I will let you know the facts about this at a later date as I have no information on this at this time.

The Turkey Raffle winner will be announced next week as the drawing is not until Tuesday evening Nov. 21.

Once again I wish you all a Happy Thanksgiving from the bottom of my heart.

Seperation Of Mail Asked By Your Postal Employees

MRS. SHERMAN KNOX

Telephone: 349-0211

The postal employees of the Orland Park Post Office are again asking the co-operation during this Christmas season that the residents have shown them in the past.

Due to the heavy volume of mail and the cramped quarters, we have to work in, we are asking you to separate your mail in the following manner: All For Chicago; All For Illinois; All For Orland Park; and Mixed States.

Please mail early and early in the day. Our last dispatch is 5:25 p.m. and it is impossible to make a primary separation of the mail if it is received late in the afternoon.

Please keep sidewalks and mail boxes clear of ice and snow so that your carrier will not be delayed in delivering the large volume of mail. Winter's ice and snow may create a special hazard for children waiting near rural or curbside boxes. They are likely to be a bit eager during the holiday season and may move too near the mail box for a vehicle to approach it safely.

Anyone with sons or daughters in the service are invited to come to the Orland Park Village Hall on Dec. 3, from noon until 5 p.m. and make a record to send to that person in service. The Orland Park American Legion will pay the postage. The American Red Cross provides the record and the envelope. All you have to do is to address the envelope.

Thomas S. Bruno, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bruno, Rt. 3, was promoted to Spec. 4/C on Oct. 25, at Camp Casey, Korea, where he is assigned as a driver in Co. B, 2nd. Battalion of the 7th Infantry Div. 31st Infantry.

A final count of the monies raised on Oct. 31 by the youth of the Orland Park Methodist Church now shows $234.45. The pride with which the children of Orland Township rang doorbells on behalf of less fortunate children, and the generosity with which they were welcomed spelled out the program's success. We wish to say thanks to the residents of Orland.

The Orland Township Democrats held their monthly meeting, Nov. 13, at the Municipal Building #2 site. The guest speaker of the evening was Corporal Donald Behrens of the State Traffic Safety Division. His program consisted of a colored film of Expressway driving and new laws concerning motorcycles, and vehicles of the first and second divisions. It was an interesting and instructive evening, from which everyone derived many benefits. Our sincere "Thanks" to Corporal Behrens. A Christmas Party including music, exchange of gifts and smorgasbord, has been set for the Dec. 11 meeting at the Municipal Building #2 site. Everyone is invited.

Mrs. Richard Johnson, International Affairs chairman of the Orland Park Junior Woman's Club, has arranged for the Red Cross to come to Orland Park to record "Voices from Home" on Sunday, Dec. 3 at the Village Hall from noon to 5 p.m. No cost to family. The American Legion Post will pay the postage for mailing to the boys. There are 48 boys in the Orland area who are in service. For further details or information, call Mrs. Edward Andrew, chairman.

On Thanksgiving Day at Christ Lutheran Church a special worship service of praise and Thanksgiving to God was conducted. The liturgy for the 9 a.m. service was the Order of Matins. The Holy Eucharist or Holy Communion was celebrated for the members of the congregation as an expression of their thankfulness. The word "Eucharist" is derived from the Greek verb meaning "to give thanks". Assisting in the worship, the Junior Choir chanted the Venite and sang a Thanksgiving anthem.

On Friday, Nov. 24 at 8 p.m. a film "Strangers to the World" a March of Dimes program, at the Orland Center School. Mrs. Lou White is chairman of the March of Dimes for 1968, in the Orland area. The drive will start Jan. 30, 1968. Volunteers are needed, please contact Mrs. White at 349-2478.

Laurel Camp #1796, Royal Neighbors, will hold their regular meeting, Tuesday, Nov. 28 at 8 p.m. in the Fire Hall.

The Esther Circle of the Methodist Church will meet in Wesley Hall, Thursday, Nov. 30 at 10:30 a.m. A pot-luck lunch will be served at noon. Friends are most welcome.

A Special Thanksgiving Worship Service will be held at 10 a.m. in the Methodist Church, Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 23. Guests are invited to attend. The offering will be bedding, childrens clothing or any new or used. If you have extra clothing, new or used bring to the church, as there is a great need for bedding and childrens clothing for Over Seas World Relief. A box will be in the annex for your contribution.

The Methodist Men held their monthly meeting and breakfast, Sunday, Nov. 19 at 8 a.m.

Special Music and a Message: Thanksgiving For a Great Deliverance, was part of the Morning Worship, Sunday, Nov. 19, at the First Baptist Church of Orland Park. The Prayer meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Darr, 15133 Huntington Court, Mrs. Wednesday, Nov. 22.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will conduct a Christmas Sale and luncheon, Friday, Dec. 1 in Wesley Hall, Serving from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. - Adults $1.25 and children 75 cents. The Esther Circle will be in charge of the Christmas items and fancy work. The public is invited to attend.

Scouts Will Resume Meets On Nov. 28

MRS. DOLORES ANDERSON
Telephone: 485-2365

Cub Scout Den 5 met Tuesday at the home of their den mother, Mrs. Herman Beck, with Mrs. Clifford White, assisting. The boys finished making their Indian costumes, and played games. A Totem Pole for the Indian ceremony at the November Pack meeting was made. Billy White served refreshments, and Bobby Murchison led in the flag ceremony.

There will be no meeting this week, due to Thanksgiving.

Chuckie Bernhoft, 3 1/2 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Bernhoft who is suffering from Perthes disease, has been placed in a body cast from his chest, down his right leg to his toes, in which he will be confined for several months.

Mrs. William Malloy has returned home from Silver Cross hospital where she was a surgical patient recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Mattes were guests Thanksgiving Day at a family gathering in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Otto in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Bernhoft and family, were guests Thanksgiving Day at a family dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnson and family in Evanston.

Sandburg Mathletes Win 2d Competition

Sandburg problem solvers won their second mathlete competition in a row by defeating Bremen, Reavis, and host Rich East Nov. 14. The score was Sandburg 344, Bremen 304, Rich East 297, and Reavis 181.

Schools compete in quickness of problem solving, accuracy, and in presentation of oral solutions. Sandburg took first place in conic sections, the written sections of inequalities, and matrix algebra with scores of 14, 40, and 43 points in each.

Gretchen Merwin scored 46 points in the oral division of Gaussian integers. Tim Colburn took first place in group theory with 47 points. Bob Bain scored 32 points in the oral division of geometry of four dimensions.

Bremen tied Sandburg for first place in circles. Jean Aeschleman, Rhonda Haag, and Tom Paulus scored a perfect 10 points each in the written problems on circles, while Jill Gifford scored a perfect mark in trigonometry equations.

Other Sandburg students with perfect scores were Louise Gee, April Christoferson, Janet Jensen, Terri Birk, Therese Colburn, Mike Wise, Jody Hucko, Debbie Bushee, Daryl Leehaug, and Scott Luecking.

Gas cooking makes sense.

Because you're in command with gas. When you turn it off, it's off. There's no hangover heat to scorch food or overheat your kitchen. And when you turn it on, it goes on—to the exact shade of heat you want.

Because modern gas ranges are so colorful and beautifully designed, they add glamour to your kitchen.

Because gas broiling is clean and smokeless. You broil with the oven door closed.

Because gas cooking brings out the tastiness of foods. It's the choice of 95% of Chicago's professional chefs.

Because today's new gas ranges give you more features per dollar than any other range—actually cost less to buy, less to use.

Because you can get out and enjoy life more, thanks to the many programmed controls that cook things and keep them eating—warm, automatically.

For more reasons why gas cooking makes sense, call or visit our nearest store or office, or see your appliance dealer.

Education Board Meets To Open Bids On New Building

MRS. EMIL WILLE
Telephone: 469-5277
The board of education of the Ann Rutledge school held a special meeting on Monday evening, Nov. 6, for the purpose of opening the bids on the addition to the building. Bids were received from five general contractors. All the bids were for more than the referendum called for. Since this is the case, the board will meet with the architect and the contractors to work something out. It is hoped that the building can be started in the near future.

Mr. Charles Zitter, a former Lincoln Estates resident, passed away at his home at Tempe, Ariz. on Tuesday, Nov. 7, after a lingering illness. Mr. Zitter was fifty two years old. Funeral services were held on Friday, Nov. 10. Services were held at the Our Lady of Mt. Carmel church with interment at the St. Francis cemetery, Tempe, Arizona. Surviving are his wife, the former Margaret Giroux, three sons, Elwood and Kenneth of Lincoln Estates and Edward of Park Forest and one daughter, Mrs. Jacqueline Vignato of San Diego, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Wheeler and daughter have moved to Byron, Ill. Mr. Wheeler is employed at radio station W. R. R. R. in Rockford, Ill. where he writes the news and is also a full time newscaster. He also goes out in the mobile unit and broadcasts news right from the scene.

The Jr. Girl Scout troop

#378 held its regular meeting on Thursday, Nov. 9. Donna Taylor was awarded a cooking achievement badge. The girls are working on a craft project.

The Ann Rutledge PTA held their meeting on Monday evening, Nov. 13 at the school. The meeting was presided over by the president Mrs. Cal Heath Jr. A report was given on the Eastern Area council meeting which was held on Nov. 2. It reportedly was an interesting subject. It was "An Aim Toward Non-Smoking Among Teen-agers." Mrs. Russel Wolcott will give a report on this subject each month for the next three months. She will also have posters and illustrations. Mrs. James McCoy Sr. gave a report on the upcoming auction, which is to be held on Saturday, Dec. 2 at the St. Anthony's Church. Anyone wishing to make a donation and would like to have it picked up can do so by calling Mrs. McCoy at 469-5616 after 3 p.m. Donations may also be dropped off at the home of Mrs. Jerry Kovar. There will be someone at the church on Friday Dec. 1 for drop-offs also. We need some volunteers for wrapping articles for "mystery" items. Anything you would like to donate, new or used, would be greatly appreciated, so let's start cleaning out the attic, basement and cabinets. Any unwanted furniture, appliances, dishes and so forth. The auction will begin at 12 p.m.

The room count was won by Mrs. Dale Pauls third grade room. Candy bars were given to the children. The PTA had 75 members so far this year. Anyone wishing a year book and membership card should contact Mrs. Russel Wolcott.

A Christmas party for the seventh grade and up is being planned for Dec. 22. The annual PTA Christmas party and gift exchange will be held on Monday evening, Dec. 11 at 8 p.m. The grab bag gift exchange will be $1.

Mrs. John Vallrue of Joliet gave an interesting demonstration on the making of candles and how arrangements can be made for your decoration. Mrs. Vallrue made up extra candles and arrangements which were sold at the meeting. Our thanks go to Mrs. Vallrue for a very interesting evening. Cupcakes and coffee were served during the social hour by Mrs. Stanley Staton, Mrs. Wm. Frankenberg, Mrs. Stanley Balsie and Mrs. Frank Kovar.

The committee members of Cub Scout Pack #237 and their wives had dinner and saw the show at the "Theatre in the Round" Saturday evening. The show that they saw was "West Side Story."

Mrs. Robert Wheeler and daughter Jayne spent Wednesday with Mrs. Dave Schuelke and daughter at West Lafayette, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kaehler attended a get-together of their social club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson at Chicago on Friday evening.

The Invisible Speed Limit

Directors Francis S. Lorenz of the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings discussed "That Invisible Speed Limit" -- what speed is -- in a radio program from Springfield this week.

Some people say speed is dangerous. Yet, Director Lorenz pointed out, everyone is traveling about 1,000 miles per hour right now! That is the speed of the earth's rotation. Is 35 miles an hour a reckless speed on the expressway? Yes it is-- recklessly slow, said Director Lorenz. Speed is a ruler, not a rule. The real speed trap is failure to adjust speed to conditions and the real speed is an invisible one, Director Lorenz emphasized.

Traveling 20 miles per hour on a road covered with glare ice could be a safe speed -- if you have 190 feet of clear distance ahead any time you have to stop. Likewise, 65 to 70 miles per hour is the safest speed -- on some roads, under some conditions and with a well-maintained car.

Director Lorenz pointed out that posted speed limits are meant to be sensible maximum speeds for favorable road, weather and traffic conditions. There is an invisible speed limit for driving conditions, said Director Lorenz.

The driver sets the invisible speed limit, Director Lorenz emphasized. Alertness, fulltime attention to driving and the avoidance of drink are the most important considerations. Speed can be a threat if maintenance of your car is neglected. If you pass often, or are often passed, something is wrong, said Director Lorenz. Posted speed limit is meaningless when you are driving in rain or on snow or ice.

When you leave the expressway, be prepared to adjust your speed. Since the motorist is used to the sound and feel of high speed, 30 or 35 miles per hour will seem slow -- poke. Make a conscious effort to shake off the feel of speed. Believe the speedometer, said Director Lorenz. These are just a few of the conditions where the posted speed limit is not the safe speed.

The invisible speed limit depends upon the use of common sense. Be a safe driver, said Director Lorenz in conclusion.

ROLAND ROTH (left), 6' 2", 208 lbs., of Orland Park, junior at North Illinois University is one of the stalwarts of the varsity football team there. With him here is Coach Howard Fletcher of NIU. Roth had been playing on end but has been switched to right guard on the offensive squad. At Sandburg High, Roth was a three-sport man, starring in football, basketball and baseball. He gained "Most Valuable" all-conference and honorable mention all-state honors as a gridder under Coach Joe Devine and he earned all conference and all area honors in baseball under Coach Cliff Eade. In his senior year at Sandburg, Roth was named the "Most Valuable Athlete. The Roth home is at 10202 Hyacinth Drive.

Announce Reseal Loan Program For 1967 Crops

Wheat, corn sorghum, soybeans, oats, and barley from the 1967 crops which are under price-support loans in on-farm storage, or in commercial storage, will be eligible for loan extensions (reseal) before the respective crop loans mature in the spring and summer of 1968. It was announced today by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. Decisions on resealing of current crops are normally made near the end of the marketing year. This early announcement will permit better advance planning by farmers and should strengthen prices.

All farmers who are eligible for price support on 1967 crops will be eligible for reseal either on the farm or in commercial storage.

Storage costs accruing during the reseal period will be paid by CCC. These payments will be made to farmers who provide farm storage or who prepay warehouse storage charges for the extended period. If warehouse charges are not prepaid, CCC will make these payments for the extended period direct to the storing warehouseman. Payments by CCC to the warehouseman will not relieve producers of their obligation for warehouse charges which accrued during the initial loan period.

Secretary Freeman, in making today's announcement, declared, "I think it's much better to establish conditions under which commodities can be carried over into the next marketing year with farmers owning the grain--on their farm, in their cooperative elevators, or in privately-owned facilities--than to have the commodities forced on the market or delivered to CCC. This action can materially strengthen prices in the year ahead. For the first time, it gives farmers in many areas a practical opportunity to use reseal.

"For many years, USDA has offered reseal privileges for certain commodities stored on the farm. This program has been used as an aid to orderly marketing, especially when production exceeded expected utilization or when market prices were weak. Extension of the reseal program to commercial storage facilities will give more farmers a chance to plan long-range marketing and avoid lower prices during times when the markets are overloaded."

Tenant farmers who could not build their own storage can now place their commodities under loan in commercial warehouses and continue the loan under reseal there.

Because the overwhelming grain surpluses from prior years have been eliminated by our acreage diversion programs since 1961, many grain elevators now have adequate storage space available.

The state ASC committee determines whether an on-farm reseal program will be conducted in its State. The Illinois ASC State Committee has authorized on-farm reseal programs for corn and soybeans only.

The commercial reseal program will be available to eligible producers in all areas.

Producers may redeem reseal commodities at any time and dispose of such commodities as desired.

Under the 1967-crop reseal program, price-support loans on stored commodities will be extended beyond the 1968 maturity dates until called. CCC retains the option to call reseal loans at any time the stocks are needed.

Storage rates on the 1967 crops now eligible for reseal loan extensions will be announced later and will be available at State and county ASCS offices. Farm storage charges paid by CCC will be comparable to that paid under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement for CCC stocks and stocks under commercial reseal.

As customary, announcement concerning continuance of reseal loans on farms for 1966 and prior crop grains will be made prior to maturity dates.

Can Apply Now For Space In U.I. 4-H House

The girls of 4-H House are now taking applications for members who will be students in September, 1968.

4-H House is an independent cooperative house on the University of Illinois campus. In a cooperative house, the members share in the planning and preparing of all meals and the regular housework.

As a group they take part in a NUMBER of campus and special house activities. Each winter girls are selected to fill vacancies in the House of 56 girls. Any girl with 5 years of 4-H work may obtain information about the House by calling or writing Barbara Harris, Assistant Extension Adviser, Home Economics, 100 Manhattan Road, Joliet, Illinois 60433, Phone 723-2265.

MISS SUE FITZER, 16, of Troy Township, known to many of the area 4-H'ers is the 1967 Illinois winner of the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest, sponsored by the IAA. She will represent Illinois in the national contest at Dallas, Tex., Jan. 29, 1968. Miss Fitzer won the senior division competition Nov. 14 at the Illinois Agricultural Association annual meeting in Chicago. She is a junior in Minooka High School. Her sister, Juanita, 19, won the 1966 Illinois "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest.

Advises Farmers To Keep Soil At Home

Many farms in Will-South Cook Counties will lose top soil this fall and winter due to fall plowing of cropland. Erwin Schmaedeke, Mokena, board member of the Will-So. Cook Soil and Water Conservation District, said today that many of the farms in Will-South Cook Counties will be subject to wind erosion during the winter months ahead. This is much greater than it was ten years ago, due to more intensive row cropping and less area in sod crops. Clearing of hedgerows which acted as natural windbreaks, larger field sizes resulting in larger exposed areas, better weed control with modern herbicides, and cleaner fence rows also contribute to wind erosion.

When soils are fall plowed, there is no residue on top to slow up wind velocities or trap rainfall and snow. As a result the snow cover that falls on plowed lands is blown off leaving the soil subject to freezing and thawing. The soil freezes at night and thaws during the day causing the soil structure to seal. This is true on light colored soils low in organic matter or soils that have sandy surface textures. Soils that dry out rapidly on the surface permit wind movement of soil particles which dislodge adjacent dry particles, and in a short time we see a dust storm over the fall plowed field.

"About 93% of the total soil movement is within one foot of the surface," according to Allan May conservationist, of the Soil Conservation Service, 100 Manhattan Road, in Joliet. The best control is not to fall plow soils that are inclined to blow; but if fall plowing is done, narrow strips of corn stalks or soybean residues can be left adjacent to highways, roads, and drainage ditches. These unplowed strips contain enough plant residues to control wind erosion and slow up wind velocities near the soil surface. Strips of winter cover, such as rye, oats, and filed brome, were all effective in controlling wind and water erosion.

Pheasants and other wildlife cannot live on plowed ground. Spring plowing leaves waste grain and cover in place for use by wildlife during the winter when food and cover are scarce.

Many farms use minimum tillage on erosive soils for wind and water control. Research shows that ridges 2 to 4 inches high are very effective in reducing soil movement if spaced apart about 4 times their height. Mr. May stated that if tillage and planting operations were done at right angles to the prevailing winds, better control is possible. Spring plowing eliminates the necessity of strip disking in the spring for erosion control.

Jayhawkers Visit Sandburg

BY JAMES MATTHEWS

Robert Rhodes, one of eight Mullinville, Kansas teenagers who spent last week visiting Carl Sandburg High School and Chicago by way of a YMCA exchange program, was appropriately named "secret student" on WCFL radio last Friday. It was just one of a series of mysteries the Kansans will be telling when they get back home.

A snowball rolling Homecoming, a "walk on the wild side" of Chicago; a guided tour by blind students at one of Chicago's changing schools; and giving a speech before more Sandburg students than there are people in Mullinville were some of their adventures.

Robert Martin, Mullinville business education teacher, said the adventures began before they even landed at O'Hare Airport Sunday, Oct. 22. "A woman dropped a cigarette into the upholstery of the seat next to her, and we had a smoky fire in the cabin of the TWA jet," he said. "The hostesses put it out with fire extinguishers."

The Kansans were met by the students they were to stay with, some parents, and Sandburg students who had gone to Mullinville in part one of the exchange last spring. Each host took his guest on a quick auto tour and the whole group got together for a party Sunday night. James Wheelock, advisor to Sandburg's student council and Martin's host; Don Brumleve, former Sandburg dean of boys and chap-erone of last spring's visit to Mullinville; and Mr. and Mrs. Richard West, chap-eroned.

Monday, Martin and the students attended classes at Sandburg. "I like the flexible scheduling some of your students are on," he said. "And the visual communications class that's learning the restaurant business is a really good idea."

"But it seems as if teachers here don't have the friendly easy-going relationships with students that we have at home. We have 61 in high school, but you don't have the time to give individual attention and to really get to know the kids, and their homelife, like we do," Martin said.

There are eleven teachers in the high school, counting the superintendent. Mullinville is a village of about 500 people, located 30 miles west of Dodge City. Over half the students in the consolidated school, which includes a grade school next door to Mullinville High, live on ranches and farms. Martin, a graduate of Emporia State, has taught in Mullinville six years.

Tuesday, the Kansans gave brief talks and answered questions in an all school assembly. A Chicago Tribune photographer took their picture. Martin's quip that "I hear Sandburg kids can't bring cars to school because of a shortage of parking space. Come on out to Kansas -- we've got plenty of space!" drew a cheer from the student assembly.

Wednesday, Kansans, hosts, and student council members, toured Chicago and Calumet High School. Calumet has 95 per cent Negro students. Each visitor was assigned a host from Calumet's student council, and they attended classes there. Calumet has facilities for handicapped students, so Kansan Robert Rhodes and Sandburgite Don Vaughn were shown the school by two blind students.

Martin talked with administrators, teachers, and the policeman on duty in the lobby. At a group discussion in the student lounge, Kansan Kathy Rose told the Calumet students, "We've never been around colored people and sometimes we get the wrong impressions from papers and TV. But actually we've been treated very nicely today, and I think we all understand each other a little better now."

The group boarded the elevated train and clacked through the South Side on the way to the Loop. It was not the view of Chicago a chamber of commerce might want visitors to see, but "a rooftop covered with whisky bottles" and "auto junkyards and gray depressing smoke-filled neighborhoods" were viewed from the train.

Some of Chicago's prouder monuments, the art museum, library, Marina City, Picasso and civic center, Prudential Building, and then pizza at Duo's completed the afternoon. Old Town struck the Kansans as "overly commercialized," but some helped ring the hippie cash-boxes by purchasing mod clothes. "We saw more extreme type people at the school in the Art Institute," Martin recalled.

Friday Rhodes was discovered by Sandburg senior Kelsey Paulis as the "Secret Student." She gets a watch from WCFL. In the afternoon, the Kansans went to Plainfield High School to see Brumleve, now principal there. "They have 800 students over there, and although at home it would be a pretty large school, we felt at home in Plainfield, which seems to be a typical midwestern town, not a subdivision," one of the students observed.

They came back to a pep assembly Friday afternoon where Sandburg Principal G. W. Davidson asked the students to get out on the football field Friday night and roll the snow off snow-man style so the Eagles could play Homewood-Flossmoor Saturday afternoon in the Homecoming game. About 500 students did. The game, the dance, and sad farewells at O'Hare Sunday, Oct. 29, completed the week.

ORDINANCE NO 165
AN ORDINANCE REGULATING EXCAVATIONS WITHIN THE STREETS OF THE VILLAGE OF NEW LENOX, ILLINOIS
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF NEW LENOX, WILL COUNTY, ILLINOIS, as follows:

SECTION 1. No person shall dig, excavate or in any manner break up the street, highway, avenue or alley within this Village paved with brick, macadam, asphalt, or other material unless such person shall have first obtained a permit therefor; and the charge or fee payable to the Village Clerk for the issuance of any one permit shall be $50.00.

SECTION 2. No person shall remove any material from any street of this Village and use the same for any other purpose than the grading or improvement of such street.

SECTION 3. In all cases where the Village has heretofore granted, or may hereafter grant, to any person or corporation the privilege of laying gas, water or other pipes or mains in the streets of this Village, it shall be the duty of such person or corporation to file with the Village Clerk a bond to the Village, with two sureties to be approved by the Village President, in such penal sum as the Village Board may direct, conditioned to safely guard all excavations made in laying such pipes or mains in the manner provided and to fill such excavations as soon as the character of the work will permit and without unnecessary or unreasonable delay, and to restore the surface of such street to the same condition as before such excavations were made; and such persons or corporation shall be subject to all reasonable rules and regulations which the Village Board may prescribe as to the length of time in which any street may be obstructed by any excavation.

SECTION 4. No person shall make any excavation in any street or alley of the Village for the purpose of making connection with any water main or sewer, or for the purpose of repairing any such connection, without a permit issued by the Village. All excavations for such purposes, and the replacing of the matter excavated, shall be done under the supervision of a duly authorized agent of the Village at the expense of the person requiring such work to be done.

SECTION 5. When any portion of any street, highway, avenue or alley within the Village is ordered paved with brick, asphalt, macadam or other material by the Village Board, it shall be the duty of every person to take notice of such order and promptly before any portion of street, highway, avenue or alley is paved to make all excavations necessary to laying gas, sewer, water or other mains or pipes or connections therewith; provided, that every person shall, in the making of any such excavations, comply strictly with all provisions of this code and other ordinances of the Village governing excavations in streets, highways, avenues and alleys then existing.

SECTION 6. Any person desiring to obtain the permit mentioned in this Ordinance shall make written application for the same to the Village Clerk of the Village of

New Lenox stating specifically the place, extent and purpose of such excavation with full specifications for the same, an estimate of the cost thereof made by the Village Engineer, when the work of excavating will be commenced, the estimated time of completion together with an agreement on the part of such person that he will furnish and advance to the Village a money deposit as required by SECTION 7 of this Ordinance, and that such person will authorize, permit and allow the Village out of such deposit, to repay itself the cost and expense incurred by the Village in filling the excavation and restoring the street, highway, avenue or alley at the place excavated to its proper repair and condition.

SECTION 7. The Village Clerk may grant a permit to any person making application as prescribed in the preceding section to dig or excavate in any street, highway, avenue or alley in the Village paved with brick, asphalt, macadam or other material; provided, that such person shall deposit with the Village Clerk such sum of money as the Village Engineer shall estimate the cost and expense of refilling the ditch, trench or excavation proposed to be made, and the repairing of the pavement at the place of such excavation in the street, highway, avenue or alley, so as to restore the same to as good repair and condition as it was prior to such digging or excavation; and provided further, that no permit to dig or excavate in any street, highway, avenue or alley of the Village so paved shall be granted by the Village Clerk when the ground is frozen to a depth of twelve (12) inches or more unless in case of extreme emergency and then only in obedience to a resolution of the Village Board duly passed by the Village Board and approved by the Village President of the Village; and provided further, that no such permit shall be valid unless such money deposit is made as herein provided.

SECTION 8. All the work of backfilling or refilling such excavations and replacing the pavement and restoring such street, highway, avenue or alley to as good repair and condition as it was before any digging or excavation therein, if not completed under supervision of the duly authorized agent of the Village within the time specified in granting such permit, shall be done by the Village and the costs thereof shall be diverted from the money deposited as required by SECTION 7 of this Ordinance, and the balance of such money, if any, shall be repaid to the depositor by the Village Clerk upon the written order, report and direction of the Village President, and not otherwise.

SECTION 9. It shall be the duty of the Village clerk to keep a correct record of all permits granted by him, or her, under the provisions of this Ordinance, which shall show the name of the person to whom the permit was granted, the place, nature, extent, character and purpose of the excavation, when the same is to be made, the estimated cost of refilling, backfilling and repaving, the time required to complete the same, the amount of money deposited with the Village Clerk and the date of permit.

SECTION 10. The Village Clerk shall procure and keep on hand for the use of applicants a supply of printed blank applications for permits, and such other blanks as may be necessary and expedient to the full and complete performance of the requirements of this article.

SECTION 11. Contractors with the Village for the construction of sewers, water mains, or for the laying of sewer or water main pipes, shall not be required to make any money deposit when obtaining permits for excavation; but any monies at any time due such contractors from the Village on their contracts, or so much as may be required to complete the backfilling, filling or refilling of the excavations and the restoration of the street, highway, avenue or alley to good repair and condition, shall be retained by the Village and used for such purpose, and no contract for such work shall be finally settled and paid for in full until the production of a written certificate of the duly authorized agent of the Village that the excavation has been properly filled and the surface of the street, highway, avenue or alley at the place of such excavation, restored to good repair and condition.

SECTION 12. It shall be lawful for any person employed or under contract with the Village to repair, make alterations, pave or repave any street, alley or public grounds in the Village, to erect proper barriers and guards across such streets, alleys or public grounds; and it is hereby made the duty of such person to place red lights thereon at night, and public travel on such streets, alleys or public places may, if necessary, be entirely prohibited and shut off therefrom while such repairs, alterations or pavements are being made and constructed, and also for a sufficient length of time after such repairs, alterations or pavements are made until the same shall be fit to use.

SECTION 13. No person shall, without the consent of a duly authorized agent of the Village in writing, or without the written consent of the person superintending the alterations, repairs or paving described in the preceding section, throw down, displace or remove any of the barriers and guards required by the preceding section.

SECTION 14. Any person violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall upon conviction thereof be punished by a fine of not less than $10.00 nor more than $200.00, and each day that said violation continues shall be considered as a separate violation of this Ordinance.

SECTION 15. The provisions of this Ordinance are declared to be severable and if any section, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining sections, sentences, clauses and phrases of this Ordinance but they shall remain in full effect, it being the legislative intent that this Ordinance shall remain in effect notwithstanding the invalidity of any part or portion thereof.

SECTION 16. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent or in conflict with any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be, and the same are hereby repealed to the extent of such inconsistencies or conflicts.

Gives Tips On Buying Kitchen Appliances

With Thanksgiving just around the corner and Christmas a month later you will probably be doing a lot of baking in the next few weeks. Is now the time for you to select a new electric mixer to help you through the busy weeks ahead? Glenda Pifer of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service gives these suggestions on buying mixers:

Choose a mixer that fits your needs. A portable mixer does light mixing, mixes small amounts, or does tasks requiring a short mixing time. It will mix a cake, but not stiff cookie dough. Table model mixers will handle larger quantities and stiffer mixtures and save much time and energy for those who prepare many home-baked products.

Portables are lightweight and you can move them from the counter to the range. They are not mounted on a stand. Altho the head of some table models can be removed from the stand and used as portables, they are heavy and tend to be difficult to handle. The controls on the portables should be located so you can operate them with the thumb of the hand holding the mixer.

Table models usually have more speed settings than portables. It is best if you can use full power at each speed setting. Remember, the amount of power is directly related to the wattage rating.

Check beaters to see if they can be easily inserted and removed. Large oval beaters designed to conform to the inside shape of the bowl do more thorough mixing and there is less need for stirring dough down by hand. Beaters with a center post are more sturdy than those without the post.

The adjustment for changing the position of the bowl platform on table models should be located so it can be easily used.

Many table model mixers have attachments such as grinders, juicers, and ice crackers.

Here are some general guides for buying small appliances, especially mixers and blenders.

Select the item that best meets your actual need and will be used frequently enough to justify its cost and the space it occupies. Choose appliances that are pleasing in design and easy to use and clean.

Buy from a dealer who assumes responsibility for the quality of his merchandise and for servicing it.

Buy name brand merchandise, preferably made by a manufacturer who specializes in small appliances. Reliable manufacturers will guarantee appliances against defects in material and workmanship for a specified number of years. The power system or heating element may be guaranteed for a different length of time.

It is of utmost importance that both the appliance and the cord have the Underwriters Laboratories Seal of Approval attached. This seal assures you that electrical safety standards have been met.

Be sure controls are conveniently located, clearly marked, and easy to use.

Check the construction of the appliance. Be sure the visible parts fit together smoothly and securely. Remember, appliances with few seams and with rounded corners are easier to clean.

The name plate on the appliance will indicate the manufacturer, serial number, voltage requirement, and wattage or amperage of the motor. Some manufacturers indicate amperage rating, while others indicate wattage rating. To transfer amperage to watts, multiply the number of amperes by the voltage.

Be sure motor-driven appliances operate quietly, at an even speed, and with no excess vibrations.

If you have a color choice, select one which will harmonize with the decor of your kitchen. Make certain the base of the appliance you buy has table rests that will not scratch your counter surfaces.

To assure safe use of your mixer, here are some safety tips:

1. Always disconnect the cord from the electrical outlet before disconnecting an appliance.

2. Hold the plug, not the cord, when connecting or disconnecting an appliance.

3. Be sure your hands are dry when connecting or disconnecting an appliance.

4. Replace worn cords and broken plugs.

5. Disconnect appliances that you are not using.

6. Do not overload circuits.

Watts And Volts Taking Over

Over 20,000 Chicago area youngsters are learning their ABCs and algebra this year in all-electric schools, according to Commonwealth Edison Company.

Robert Schultz, Edison's general commercial manager, said reports compiled for the fall school term show that the utility serves 40 all-electric primary and secondary schools in the greater Chicagoland area. The schools have more than 750 classrooms and a combined area of over one and a half million square feet.

"Ten years ago not a single all-electric school existed in Illinois," Schultz said. "Not until 1958 when Cicero's Woodbine Elementary School made its debut as the state's first all-electric school, did officials, education authorities and teachers have a chance to evaluate all-electric facilities."

Schultz said all-electric schools have bounced back from their late start. In less than a decade attendance at all-electric schools swelled from an initial enrollment of 400 at Woodbine Elementary School to over 20,000 students today.

Steadily declining rates and successful operating experience have contributed to growth of the all-electric concept for school structures.

An example is Chicago's first all-electric school, John J. Duffy Grade School on the city's south side. It has been operating over seven per cent below estimated cost since opening in 1965.

But according to Schultz other factors besides economics account for the popularity of electric schools.

"Electricity is tuned in to the sophisticated teaching tools that are becoming standard equipment on today's model of the 'little red schoolhouse,'" he said.

Among the examples of space age hardware and design in the newest all-electric schools:

Iroquois Junior High School in Des Plaines is located two miles from the world's busiest airport, O'Hare Field. It lives up to its billing as a jetage structure. Iroquois is soundproof and windowless so noise from aircraft traffic is muffled out. School officials call Iroquois a structure with a perfectly controlled learning environment.

The building has everything from educational television in each classroom to terrazzo floors and vinyl wall coverings.

St. Ignace High School in Chicago recently dedicated a new all-electric sports and administrative center featuring a unique heating system for the gymnasium.

Infra-red lamps allow sections of the gym to be heated as desired. During a basketball game, the temperature on the floor can be maintained in the 60s so the players are comfortable. The stands can be heated to 70 degrees or more for the maximum comfort of spectators.

Westview Junior High School in Hampton Park is completely air conditioned, boasts a theatre-in-the-round and its own television studio.

Hillcrest High School in Country Club Hills has the largest dial retrieval language laboratory of any high school in the United States. Here's how it works. Teachers select a pre-taped lesson by dialing a number on a phone-like device. The tape begins playing automatically as students and their teacher listen through headphones. The electronic teacher instructs students in Latin, German, French, Spanish and Russian.

The cafeteria area houses canteens that dispense instant hot meals for students and faculty on the run.

Everett Dirksen Jr. High School in Calumet City is the newest heat-with-light building in the south suburbs. By-product heat from the school's lighting system supplies most of the building's heating requirements. Supplemental heat, when needed, is provided by conventional electric heat. Hansen & Gretel Kindergarten in Alsip has electric heating elements under the classroom floors so tots can crawl about without getting a chill.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING BEFORE THE MOKENA ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held by the Zoning Board of Appeals of the Village of Mokena, Illinois, on Wednesday, December 13, 1967, at the hour of 8:30 p.m. in the Village Hall on Front Street, Mokena, Illinois, at which time and place the Board will consider the proposed Variation in the regulations of the Zoning Ordinance of Mokena, Illinois as follows:

To consider a variation in the required off street parking and to consider a variation in the rear yard requirement to permit construction of a building within ten (10) feet of the East lot line of the property described as the Westerly one-half (W 1/2) of the Southerly fifty (50) feet of Lot 6 and the Westerly eighty-nine and five tenths (89.5) feet of the West one-half (W 1/2) of Lot 7 in Block 4 in the original town of Mokena in Will County, Illinois, commonly known as 11042 Front Street, Mokena, Illinois.

All persons desiring to appear and be heard for or against said Variation may appear at the said hearing and be heard thereon.

Dated this 20th day of November, 1967.

Alert Drivers

Have you changed your route of driving to and from work during the past few years?

It's a good idea, says the Chicago Motor Club-AAA. A change serves to keep the driver more alert.

Many drivers have been using the same streets for years. They jump into their cars in the morning, tune in on the "old habit guidance system" and settle back to endure the usual delays and surroundings.

The motor club points out that route changing, if at all possible, can add a little fun and safety to your daily driving routine. Picking a new way to work will force you to concentrate on getting where you are going and might even result in a safer, quicker trip.

How should you select the best route? Obviously the "shortest distance between two points is a straight line" applies only to camel drivers on the desert. And even they are influenced by oases along the way.

The length of the route is not always the determining factor in selecting the best path, either. For example, Route 1 is 10 miles long and the average speed for the route is 20 miles an hour while Route 2 is 15 miles and its speed is 45 miles an hour. Route 1 takes 15 minutes longer than Route 2 even though it is 5 miles shorter.

Time then, more than distance, is the controlling element.

The Chicago Motor Club offers this formula for making your daily trip a new and interesting experience in safe driving:

1. Check the clock when you leave the house and arrive at your work destination. Times may vary from day to day.

2. Know and anticipate trouble spots, left turn delays, slippery expressway ramps and three-way intersections.

3. Use the traffic information services available -- radio reports from helicopters, roadway repair announcements in the newspapers and weather forecasts to anticipate longer travel times.

4. Buy your gas on the way home when you don't have to meet that deadline for reporting to work.

5. Purchase a newspaper before you get into your car so you don't have to make a special stop at a corner -- a stop which could involve hazards.

6. If you encounter a trouble spot daily, contact the responsible governmental agency for their comments on the problem. It is possible that with the complexity of maintenance responsibilities they might not be aware of this particular trouble spot.

Set Blend Price Of Milk For October

Producers who ship milk thru Pure Milk Association's Chicago market pool will be paid a blend price of not less than $4.76 per hundredweight for Grade A milk of 3.5 percent butterfat test delivered to plants in the marketing area in October, it was announced today.

The marketing area (Zone 1) includes Cook and DuPage counties and adjoining townships in Lake, Kane and Will counties, Ill.

Jesse Cook, supervisor of the pool, said the $4.76 October blend price combines the Class I milk price of $5.40 per cwt. paid by dealers for bottled milk sold in the Chicago metropolitan area, slightly different prices for Class I milk sold through the pool to other areas, and $3.97 per cwt. for all milk sold in Class II for products other than fluid milk and cream.

The $5.40 Class I price paid by handlers has been in effect since Sept. 4 this year, Cook said. The October Class II price of $3.97 is the average price paid for manufacturing grade milk in Minnesota and Wisconsin in September. A year ago the October Class II price was 37 cents higher.

The producers' return for that portion of their milk used for bottling at the October Class I price of $5.40 per cwt. was 23.2 cents per half gallon or approximately 11.6 cents per quart.

In addition to the $4.76 marketing area blend price, producers whose farms are located in Zones A and B of the old Chicago Federal order will be paid nearby differentials of 9 and 7 cents per cwt., respectively, on their milk deliveries.

Utilization of milk in Class I in the PMA market pool in October was 59 percent compared with 61 percent in September.

The producer butterfat differential follows the average wholesale price for 92-score butter on the Chicago market.

Total milk produced for the PMA pool in October, a 31-day month, was 320,557,750 pounds, compared with 304,749,121 pounds in September, a 30-day period.

99-Automobiles For SaleCheaper in the long run.

Gas will never cost you much. (You'll get up to 27 miles to the gallon.)

And the amount of oil you use is like a drop in the bucket. (It only takes 2.7 quarts and almost never needs more between changes.)

And the engine is air-cooled, so you don't have to spend a red cent for anti-freeze or rust inhibitors.

And you get more than your money's worth out of a set of tires.

But don't think buying a new Volkswagen is just another get-rich-quick scheme.

You have to wait until the second set of tires wear out.
